

Comment Writing Can-Do-List:

Good Luck with your Writing!

① Introduction (1-2)

- I can clearly state the importance and relevance of the chosen topic.
- I can write an engaging introduction that grabs the reader's attention, possibly by referring to a recent event related to the topic.

② Main Part (1-2)

- I can present three paragraphs with well-articulated contra-arguments, followed by an explanation or example, opposing the topic.
- I can present three paragraphs with persuasive pro-arguments, followed by an explanation or example, in support of the topic.

③ Conclusion (1-3)

- I can ensure that the conclusion is directly related to the original question.
- I can express my own opinion clearly and concisely in the conclusion.
- I can provide a well-rounded conclusion that may include a summary, outlook, solution, or consideration of consequences.

④ General (1-11)

- I can use strong and convincing arguments throughout the comment.
- I can successfully fulfill the requirements of the given topic and text type.
- I can demonstrate depth, creativity, and background knowledge in my argumentation.
- I can organise my comment with a clear and logical structure.
- I can create paragraphs that are meaningful and contribute effectively to the overall coherence of the text.
- I can use a diverse and varied vocabulary to enhance the quality of my writing.
- I can maintain grammatical correctness throughout the comment.
- I can ensure accurate spelling in my writing.
- I can use punctuation effectively to enhance clarity and coherence.
- I can use effective linking and structuring devices to link ideas.
- I consistently use the present tense as appropriate for the comment writing genre.