
Listening comprehension (Hör-Schwerstehen) 133/2017

Info:

Listening comprehension is one of the core competencies in English language learning. You usually listen to teachers, to your peers or to lyrics (while listening to music in your free time). You also may watch English news or TV series. Your effort is to understand as much as possible and get the most out of the audio (audio-visual) text. Today you are going to watch (and listen to) an explanatory video that describes basic processes of (economic) globalisation and work on different tasks (see below).

ALL TASKS HAVE TO BE HANDED IN AFTER THE LESSON ON MONDAY (13/3/2017)! Please collect them and take them to the teacher's room (Herr Breuers Fach)

- ① „Money makes the globalised world go round“
Before you watch the video: Think about this statement. Do globalisation and economy go hand in hand? Comment on the statement.
- ② Watch the video (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JJOnFD19eT8>) and take some notes (listening for gist). This is your first listening so you will not get all the information. Try to grasp the general (or global) understanding of the text.
- ③ Now watch the video a second time and answer the multiple choice questions below. Please note: There may be multiple correct answers.
