Do or make?

TO DO

is used when we talk about activities or tasks that we perform.

Examples: do the laundry, do homework, do the dishes, do a job, do exercise is used when we talk about creating or producing something.

TO MAKE

Examples: make a cake, make a drawing, make a plan, make a decision, make a mistake

1 Decide! Do or make?

a) Can you please some coffee for me?

b) I need to my laundry before the weekend.

c) She likes to art in her free time.

d) He always forgets to his chores around the hou

e) We should a plan before we start the project.

f) My dad likes to crossword puzzles in the morning.

g) They their own bread because it's cheaper.

my hair before the party tonight. h) I have to

i) She's going to a salad for lunch.

j) He needs to some exercise to stay healthy.

a cake for the party! k) Let's

I) He's going to his best on the exam tomorrow.

m) They're going to a fire in the fireplace tonight.

n) Can you please me a favor (=gefallen tun) and water my plants while I'm gone?

homemade pasta from scratch. o) She loves to

p) I usually the dishes after dinner.

q) He's going to a phone call to his parents later.

r) We need to some grocery shopping for dinner tonight.

