

Tandem sheet: If-Clauses Type I

- ④ Fold your paper in the middle. Work with a partner. One of you is partner A, one of you is partner B.

Partner A starts the conversation by completing the sentences with the correct if-clause type 1. Partner B corrects partner A if necessary. Switch roles afterwards.

Situation: A tourist from the US asks the tourist information in Berlin about interesting sights.

- Example Partner A: If you book the sightseeing bus, you will see the most important sights in Berlin.

Partner A: American tourist

Partner B: Tourist information

Hello, I have some questions about sightseeing in Berlin.	Hello, yes sure. How can I help you?
Can you recommend some nice sightseeing spots in Berlin?	Yes! If you go to Tiergarten , you will be in a beautiful park and you will see the Siegestsäule .
Wow that sounds interesting. What else can I visit/explore?	If you go to Pariser Platz , you will see the Brandenburger Tor and the famous hotel Adlon .
But what can I do if it rains?	If it rains, you will be able to do some indoor activities like going to a shopping malls.
Which shopping malls do you like?	If you go to KaDeWe , Alexa , or Wilma , you will see some nice shops.
Oh I like shopping a lot! But if I am hungry, where will I go to?	If you go to Boxhagener Platz , you will be able to eat delicious food from all around the world.
Yummy! Can you recommend other food?	Yes, there are many kebab places all around Berlin and usually it's pretty cheap.
And what about museums? I want to see the Nefertiti!	If you go to the Neue Museum at Museumsinsel , you will be able to see Nefertiti . There are many different museums like Pergamonmuseum and Alte Nationalgalerie .
Thank you so much for all your recommendations.	Your welcome! Have a wonderful stay in Berlin.
