

Das Gerüst für deine E-Mail:Beginne mit einer Begrüßung bzw. Anrede.

Danke dem Empfänger für seine E-Mail und / oder frage ihn, wie es ihm geht.

Nenne den Zweck deiner e-Mail: Warum schreibst du heute?

Führe deinen Inhalt aus

Füge eine abschließende Schlussbemerkungen hinzu, z.B. dass du dich auf eine Antwort freust, dass der andere bald zurück-schreiben soll o.ä.

Beende die E-Mail mit einem Schlusswort und deine Namen

Mach dir genau bewusst, was in der E-Mail vorkommen soll!

① Wie kannst du deine E-Mail an deinen Freund / deine Freundin beginnen?

- Dear Ladies and gentlemen,
- Dear ...
- Love ...
- Hi ...

② Welche Schlussworte passen zu einer E-Mail an deinen Freund / deine Freundin?

- Bye for now,
- Write back soon, please!
- Your
- Love,

③  Find the missing words.

(...) thank you for your e-mail. I'm afraid I can't come to the next actors' meeting - imagine: We're going to move to Decorah in two weeks. My parents' friends live there.

They want me to be friends with their [] Emily. But Tom, I don't even [] her - I'm really worried about my parents' plans. Actually I like the green hills and the fresh air [] the country, but I must sit in a [] ! Maybe things are more difficult for me in Decorah? And everybody there is crazy about barrel races, [] know them? You must ride fast around big barrels with your horse and they [] fall over. I think it isn't good for the horses, but Emily [] barrel races. Maybe she can teach me how to ride, but without races. Anyway, I'm going to pack my things for Decorah soon.

What [] next weekend? Tell me if you are going to go to the movie theater? What else do you like about [] in the city?

Write back soon :-)

[] ,

Madison

